A Medical Firm Gives Away Cash.

J. F. Smith & Co. of No. 235 Greenwich St., New York, the manufacturers of that favorite cathartic known as Smith's Bile Beans, have adopted a novel plan. They ask the individual buyers of Bile Beans to send their full name and address, with an outside wrapper from a bottle of Bile Beans (either size) to their office, and they give $5 for the first wrapper received in each morning's mail, and $1 for the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th. Every day $10 in cash is thus sent to their correspondents. Ask for SMALL size.

California Bows and Arrows.

The California Indian's bow was made from the white or sap wood of the cedar, the outside of the tree being also the outside of the bow. The stick was scraped and polished with the sharp pieces of obsidian, roasted in ashes and bent into shape. Their arrows are made of button willow twigs of the buckeye and canes—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE COYOTE'S CRY.

On graduating from West Point I joined my regiment at a bleak post far out on the frontier. One cold winter night not many months after, when the snow was piled deep on mountain and in valley and creaked noisily at each step of the heavy arctic overshoes we were obliged to wear, I was trudging wearily around the post, making my last inspection of the sentinels as officer of the guard. Suddenly, from just across the parade and directly behind the line of officers' quarters, there came a short, sharp bark, followed by several more in quick succession, the time growing faster and the pitch higher until in a moment they all ran together in one long drawn and lugubrious howl.

Then the noise stopped, but before I could recover breath it began again in the same way as before, only louder and in a more wailing tone, until it seemed as if a chorus of fiends was lamenting the invasion of their haunts by the white man.

We were in the heart of the Indian country, and thinking the unusual noise was the signal for a midnight attack I was about to run back to the guardhouse, turn out the guard and arouse the garrison, when a sharp "Who comes there?" warned me that I was approaching a sentinel. After I had been duly advanced this man proved to be an old soldier of my own company, who had probably enlisted not many years after I was born. It occurred to me that it would do no harm to see if he knew what the noise was, especially as he seemed totally undisturbed by it.

"Higgins, did you hear that yelling across the parade?"

"Yes, sor."

Here I thought I saw the beginning of a grin at the corners of his mouth, and in consequence became very dignified.

"What was it, Higgins?"

"But, Higgins, if that noise was made by coyotes, they must have been a hundred, and I would have seen them on the snow."

"Begging the looter's pardon, sor, I think there was only two."

About this time I recalled what the older officers had told me about coyotes, and with a disgusted air I continued my rounds.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

An Ancient Pledge.

The following ancient temperance pledge was sent to Lady Henry Somerset by the late S. C. Hall, formerly editor of The Art Journal. It is printed in old English characters and was found on the blank leaf of a Bible which has been transmitted from sire to son through many generations. It appears as the property of Robert Bolton, B. D., preacher of God's word at Broughton, Northamptonshire.

"From this day forward to the end of my life, I will never pledge any health or drink a carouse in a glass, cup, bowl or other drinking instrument, whosoever it be, from whomsoever it come, not to my own most gracious king, nor any of the greatest monarch or tyrant upon earth, nor my dearest friend, nor all the gouldie in the world, shall ever enforce me. Not angel from heaven (who I know will not attempt shall persuade, nor satan, with all his subtlesties, nor all the power of hell itself shall betray me. By this very sinne (for sinne it is, and not a little one) I doe plainly find that I have more offended and dishonored my glorious Maker and most merciful Saviour than all the other sinne that I am subject unto, and for this very sinne it is my God hath often been very strange unto me, and for that cause, and no other respect have I thus vowed, and I heartily beg my good Father in heaven of his great goodness and infinite mercy in Jesus Christ to assist me in the same, and be so favorable unto me for what is past. Amen."—R. Bolton, Broughton, April 10, 1637.

St. Elmo's Light.

St. Elmo's light or fire is the name which has been given a phenomenon often seen at sea during thunderstorms. It appears in the shape of a brush or star (seldom round or square), usually at the tips of the masts, or if on land at the points of gables or spires. It is occasionally accompanied by a hissing noise, and on this account is believed to be an electrical manifestation.

The old time mariners believed the light to be the spirits of Castor and Pollux (who were supposed to watch over men who 'go down to the sea in ships'), they always regarding the "fire" as a sign that the force of the storm had been spent.—St. Louis Republic.

Chelsea Owns Carlyle's Death Mask.

The death mask of Carlyle, which was taken by the late Mr. Glassby, a Chelsea sculptor, for Sir J. E. Boehm, B. A., has been presented to the Chelsea public library by Mr. Blunt, the rector of the parish. Mr. Blunt has also given to the same institution an autograph letter of the great Duke of Wellington. The letter was addressed to the Chelsea churchwardens in 1829 and is an apology for not attending the ceremony of laying the first stone of the present parish church.—Westminster Gazette.

FELLING BIG REDWOOD TREES.

One of the most remarkable timber belts in the world stands in Humboldt and Mendocino counties of this state, says a California exchange. It embraces 4,125 square miles, containing 152,000,000 feet of timber. With the aid of the microscope scientists have found the age of some of these trees to be nearly 3,000 years. Some of the fallen trees have remained where they fell from 800 to 1,000 years, so it is estimated, with scarcely any deterioration of the wood. Eastern tourists in California know little of these redwoods (Sequoia sempervirens). They usually see the few mammoth redwoods of Calaveras (Sequoia gigantea), and go home and tell eastern friends about this disappearing tribe of giants.

The lumber redwoods of Humboldt are less talked about, yet one of its trees will yield over 100,000 feet of boards and fill a freight train with logs. Felling these trees, which are 150 to 250 feet high, is a fine art acquired only by the most expert choppers. This man must have excellent judgment as to the lean of the tree and its other peculiarities which may affect the direction of the fall. He drives a stake 100 or 150 feet from the base of the tree and prepares a level bed in a direct line from base to stake. On that line the tree must fall. An ax kerf or cut is then made in the trunk on the side the tree is to fall. The apex of the obtuse triangle made by this kerf points exactly at the distant stake. The tree is cut one-third through with the ax.

On the other side of the tree, opposite the ax kerf, a saw is started. This is done by boring two holes horizontally and driving the wooden pins on which the 12 to 20 foot saw rests under the kerf. Broad thin iron wedges are driven in after the saw to prevent the doomed tree from pinching it. At each end of this saw "ears" are bolted on, which can be removed and saw withdrawn in case of trouble. Wedges are made to follow the saw until the wood dividing the saw from the ax kerf is narrowed to a width where the wedges can be made to force the tree, with all its great weight, to lean in the direction it is to fall. The tree is toppled over, and so exact is the chopper's work and calculation that almost invariably the falling trunk drives the stake aimed at when the operations were begun. Any error in the fall of the tree is likely to cause the tree to break and cost the lumberman more than a chopper's wages for a month—$125.

The virgin forests are so densely timbered that, if cleared at once, there would not be room enough on the ground for the tree trunks. "Peelers" follow the choppers. With long steel bars, flattened on one end, they pry off the thick bark and burn it. Then comes the crosscut saw man, who cuts the tree into logs. These are transported to the mill by rail, cut into boards and shipped to market. Redwood is so free from resinous matter that it will not burn easily, and when fired it chars. The immunity from fire of towns built of redwood lumber is remarkable. Large conflagrations are unknown. This lumber shrinks so little it is used by builders in a green state. The beauty of the wood for finishing consists in its curly face and also a birdseye grain.

Putting New Legs on Her.

Grant Whistler, passenger agent of the Graham & Morton steamers, tells a pretty strong story, but he declares it is true.

One day the City of Chicago, on her way into the harbor of St. Jose, came near colliding with a smaller boat. She came so near that half a dozen of her fenders were scraped off, and the carpenters were busy putting new ones in their places while the hustlers were rushing the customary load of berries aboard. Two farmers came up to the big boat and looked her over admiringly.

"That's the ship that will carry us over to Chicago," said one of them.

"Yes, and she'll take us over in a mighty little time," said the other. "I heard she came over in four hours this morning."

"She'll go back in less time than that. Look at the new legs they are putting on her," was the first farmer's response.—Chicago Herald.

The Strength of an Eggshell.

Every one is familiar with the strength of an egg pressed endwise between the palms of both hands. Strong men, even with fingers locked, have been unable to break an egg held in this manner. One was tested at the Watervliet (N. Y.) arsenal recently in the testing machine, and it required 65 pounds to crush the egg. There are eggs and eggs, however. We presume this one was of the hard shell variety.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

California Bows and Arrows.

The California Indian's bow was made from the white or sap wood of the cedar, the outside of the tree being also the outside of the bow. The stick was scraped and polished with the sharp pieces of obsidian, roasted in ashes and bent into shape. Their arrows are made of button willow twigs of the buckeye and canes—Philadelphia Ledger.

The candidates who are being nominated by the current conventions should give a few days to the study of the Purity of Election law. The new law lays down the limit within which a campaign may be conducted, and it would be rather awkward for a candidate to find that he had voted enough to elect him, but was prevented by his own act from taking office. The Purity of Elections Act makes it easy for men of small means who intend to be honest to run for office. It limits the amount to be spent in a campaign. It lays down the purposes for which money may be spent. It sets forth with great particularity the acts which a candidate or voter may not do. And it enforces its commands first by depriving candidates of office if they violate it, and secondly by fine and imprisonment. Read the law carefully. See that the campaign committees are properly named and put on record. Do not spend any more money than the law allows. Keep your accounts straight; that you may file the itemized statement required after the election. Don't hire voters for imaginary services, or make trifling loans until after election, or pay for the board or lodging of voters, or do any of the other things forbidden by the Act. If you do you will lose the office, even if you carry the election. Also keep a close watch on the other man and see that he walks a straight line. He will not be allowed to take the office if he wins by trickery. —Examiner.

FACT AND FANCY.

BY JEDWIN NEBWAME.

This column will henceforth be written by the personage whose name appears above. Mr. Nebwame (none other than myself) does not feel that it will be necessary, in order to entertain and enlighten the readers of the INDEX-TRIBUNE, that he be at all times original; but, from his birth having been reared in a Christian land he feels it a tribute, just and due, that he notice at the time of insertion the authors of such bits of fact and fancy as appear worthy of admission to the sacred precincts of this column. So Jedwin and Homer will at times scintillate together. It is well that great minds have an arena broad enough to tilt upon at highest speed. This the INDEX-TRIBUNE affords. Contact with great minds is a priceless boon. So read and become rich.

Kind readers will not be censorious, I trust, if my alphabetical knowledge does not extend beyond M, for my means would not allow me to purchase the volumes of Britannica from M to Z. This is not a very serious handicap for I do not expect to master the volumes I have before I am able to complete the set. And then from time to time I shall make trips to the city and there visit the great library in the great City Hall. And should some unusually recalcitrant problem come up for solution it would be quite possible to communicate with our two great seats of learning—Berkeley and Palo Alto. The former, being nearer home, I shall probably satisfy my inquiring mind in the shadow of its leaped walls. On one point it may be necessary to visit Palo Alto. If any of my readers, in the course of their travels, chance to see a sea-serpent I feel that it would be best to call on Dr. Jordan about the incident. The Doctor is a learned man, and he says that sea-serpents never did and never could exist. Now, kind reader, keep your eye open. If you see a monster of the deep, snake-like in appearance, let me know of it at once. Sonoma will then have the honor of having upset a dogma delivered ex cathedra, for I will straightway tell Dr. Jordan that he is mistaken. If he doubts the veracity of the person who saw the serpent we will have him sworn and then the Doctor will be obliged to believe, for no one would swear to a lie. You see I am very careful to prepare for unforeseen events. My volumes of the Encyclopedia do not contain the article on sea-serpents.

The other day I was turning the leaves of an English History which was profusely illustrated. One of the illustrations was that of a Viking, one of those sturdy pirates who robbed the coast of England many centuries ago. They were strong, masculine men. I could not but contrast them with our modern law-abiding home-makers. As usual when I contemplate the past my thoughts are expressed in a sort of rough metre:

Oh, for the blood that pulsed so free,
Through the viking veins of old;
Oh, for the nerve of their brawny arms
As they fought in the icy cold.
Oh, that a passion for love or war,
Would fill with life the force
That urged those pirates over the waves
To seek for death, or worse!

That braved the winter seas;
Their hearts were strong as the snowy thongs
They tore from the reindeer's knees.
They lived to fight and fought to kill;
Their path a spangled blood,
And not a sight so dead to them,
As ebbing, spilling blood.

Their strength, their only boast,
And when at last through war was gone,
Valhalla they had to go to!

ON THE PRESENT DISCOVERY.
O'er the desert stalks through the State,
And leaves his track in every town;
The workman grumbles forth his hate,
And all the people daily frown.

Oh! for a man to take the helm,
Direct our course and give command;
Some just mind to overleem
Our doubts, and cure this troubled land.

Bonnet promise to be larger than they have been for some time, which is certainly a desirable thing, as the recent shapes have been more for ornament than use.

Some years ago we were subjected to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by all dealers.

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS!

Short Breath, Palpitation,

Dr. G. W. McKinsey, postmaster of Kokomo, Ind., and a brave ex-soldier, says: "I had been severely troubled with heart disease ever since leaving the army at the close of the late war. I was troubled with palpitation and shortness of breath. I could not sleep on my left side and had pain around my heart. I became so ill that I was much alarmed, and fortunately my attention was called to

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I decided to try it. The first bottle made a decided improvement in my condition, and five bottles have completely cured me."

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Schocken keeps the best and cheapest groceries.

The Union Hotel is a first-class house in every respect.

The Sonoma House is conducted as a first-class hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher.

A number of our local ninnos are preparing for a good quail hunt on the 1st of next month.

The meals to be had at the Sonoma House, now kept by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fisher, are the best to be had in any hotel north of San Francisco.

The Union Hotel bar, under the supervision of A. A. Enke, will be supplied with the very best of wines, whiskies and cigars to be had in the market.

Hall's Hair renewer enjoys the confidence and patronage of people all over the civilized world, who use it to restore and keep the hair a natural color.

For Dry Goods, Clothing, Groceries, Hardware, Cutlery and also everything kept in a general merchandise store go to Schocken's, northside Plaza, Sonoma.

The weather still continues very warm. The thermometer every day this week registered between 95 and 100 degrees in the shade from noon until sundown.

Henry Weyl, the well-known butcher, purchased last week 200 head of fine fat sheep. The mutton that he is now serving to his customers is the finest ever sold in this valley.

Senator James G. Fair, owner of the Sonoma Stock Farm, last Tuesday purchased the celebrated stallion Gossiper, who holds a record of 2:14 and is considered one of the best bred horses in the State.

Harry Krager of the Bank Exchange has fitted up the second story of his building as a billiard parlor. Other improvements have been made the past week that makes this one of the leading saloons of Sonoma.

Rev. W. C. Robbins has been appointed to the pastorate of the M. E. Church of Sonoma. He is an earnest and efficient minister and has had excellent success in Yolo county, where he has been laboring for two years. Rev. Mr. Stanley left for Benicia yesterday where he will take charge of the church in that place.

The ball to be given next Saturday evening at Union Hall by the Swiss National Club of Sonoma will be largely attended by the residents of Sonoma and adjoining towns. The music that has been engaged is one of the best string bands of San Francisco. The oration by Hon. Robt. A. Poppe will be a feature of the evening's festivities.

If you want to prosper own your own house and stop paying rent. We offer a modern built two-story seven-room residence on one of the principal streets of Sonoma. Lot 50x150. Will be sold for $1,200 on the following terms: Five hundred dollars down and balance in three years at 7 per cent. The house cost $1,800. For further particulars apply at this office.

Frank H. Dowd of Vallejo Township has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal for the Northern District of California. There were a large number of aspirants for the position, but Mr. Dowd appears to have had the strongest pull with the administration. It is said the appointment was made on the recommendation of Congressman Geary.

The following guests are registered at the Mervyn Hotel, Glen Ellen: Miss Katie Davis, L. G. Alkins, Victor Hoffman, William Earnest, Miss Bernice Halstead, N. G. Flin, Robert Phillips, Mr. Wellendorf, Thomas Tryon, Mrs. Tryon, Mrs. J. Diebert, Robert Shully, San Francisco; P. H. Helman, Piedmont; F. P. March, Mr. Bishop, Miss Fannie Bishop, Oakland; E. M. Stebbins, Berkeley; J. T. Bedford, Fresno; Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, Antioch.

La Belle, a two-year-old filly formerly owned by the late Wm. H. Graves of this place, trotted a mile one day this week in the fast time of 2:16. This is the fastest time ever trotted on the Coast by a two-year-old. Her record now stands second to that of the world. This promising world-beater was sold for the small sum of $500 at the auction sale of the stock belonging to the Graves estate held in Napa several months ago. La Belle is now valued at $30,000.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Sam I. Allen, Republican nominee for Sheriff, is making a strong fight in Sonoma Township.

Congressman Geary will address the people of this place on Saturday evening, October 6th.

The Democratic county candidates will meet the people of Sonoma on Thursday evening, October 25th.

It is claimed that one of the so-called independent candidates who was defeated for a nomination in the Republican convention is standing out for "dough."

W. F. Wines, the efficient, genial and accommodating County Clerk, was in town last Monday. Mr. Wines, who has held the office for two years, is a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Prof. A. C. Abshire, the Democratic candidate for School Superintendent, was in Glen Ellen Monday last. He will poll his full party strength in that town. The fight in Sonoma Township lies between him and E. W. Davis. The madam will not be in it at all.

The Republican county nominees will visit Sonoma to-day. There will be a meeting at Union Hall this evening, which will be addressed by Hon. Albert G. Burnett, D. A. McKinley and other speakers. The meeting will be presided over by Judge J. M. Cheney of this place.

A voter wishes to know how the Democratic candidate for Sheriff spells his name. His cards read "Toombs," while the Santa Rosa Democrat prints it "Tombs." Just which is right we are unable to answer as the gentleman's epitaph does not appear among our political announcements.

An observing writer says that whiskered candidates for office are invariably beaten. If this rule holds good in the coming election for School Superintendent in this county the contest lies between Prof. Abshire and Fannie McG., neither of whom have flowing beards like their opponents Messrs. Ed. Davis and Prof. Finley. Gentlemen, better cut off those whiskers.

Lee Ellsworth, the Democratic nominee for Treasurer, came over from Petaluma last Saturday to become better acquainted with our people. Mr. Ellsworth has lived in Sonoma county for over thirty-five years. He is a successful business man of Petaluma where he is highly esteemed for his many excellent qualities. He will poll a heavy vote in Sonoma Township regardless of party ties.

Jonathan Roberts, the Peoples' Party nominee for Sheriff, visited Sonoma and neighboring towns last Wednesday and Thursday. He is a dignified though pleasant gentleman and made a very favorable impression among the voters of the Township, many of whom will cast their ballots for him. Mr. Roberts is a successful farmer and resides on the Petaluma road six miles from Santa Rosa. He came to Sonoma county in 1864, but returned to Iowa in 1870. In 1882 he returned to California and has ever since resided in this county. Mr. Roberts, who originally affiliated with the Democratic party, was born in Indiana in 1833.

A. L. Warner, the nominee of the Peoples' Party for County Treasurer, was in town several days this week and made this office a pleasant call. Mr. Warner is a well-to-do farmer on Russian River, where he has resided for nineteen years. He is a New Yorker and was a Union soldier in the Civil War, having commanded a company of Illinois volunteers. Mr. Warner is one of the most intelligent and agreeable gentlemen we have met for many a day. He is a brother of United States Senator Warner of New York and was in the Republican Convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln in 1860. He is intensely against the railroads and other corporations and has a contempt for machine politics. In placing him on the ticket the Peoples' Party could not have selected a more capable or honest man in all Sonoma county.

What's the matter with the straight-out Republican newspapers of Sonoma county that they are denouncing the course of Allen Bryant in bolting the Healdsburg convention, while at the same time they are as mum as oysters about Mrs. Fannie McG. Martin, who has enjoyed the emoluments of the office of School Superintendent for eight years as a free gift from the Republican party of Sonoma county and who bolted the convention because she couldn't wheedle and cajole the delegates into giving her a third term regardless of other if not better claimants for the position than she could ever be? Why don't these papers that are flying the colors of the Republican party at their masthead come out flat-footed for the regular Republican nominee and denounce the madam for her avariciousness and treachery to the party that took her out of a $90 a month position as a teacher in the Sonoma public school and put her in an office for eight years that will make her independent and "sassy" for life? The madam is a traitress to the Republican party and no true Republican ought to vote for her.

Death of Dr. Wooster.

News of the death of Dr. David Wooster was received in this place Thursday morning. He died very suddenly of heart failure at his home on Webster street, San Francisco, at 1:20 o'clock on the morning in question. His demise was unexpected. At 11 o'clock in the evening he was conversing cheerfully with his wife when he was suddenly attacked with the dreaded disease and lapsed into unconsciousness.

Dr. Wooster, who was in the habit of spending his Summer vacations in Sonoma, owned a mountain ranch near town and also property on Broadway, and was well known to the people of this valley. For many years he has been a prominent practicing physician in the metropolis and was the author of several noted medical works, and, strange to relate, his hobby was heart failure, the very disease that so suddenly called him hence.

Mrs. J. P. Weems of this place is a daughter of deceased. He also leaves a wife and two other daughters.

Dr. Wooster was a native of New York and aged 69 years.

The remains will arrive on the Donahue train at 10:40 this morning and will be interred in Valley Cemetery. The funeral will take place under the auspices of Sonoma Lodge, No. 28, I. O. O. F., the deceased being a member of the order.

Civil Suit.

F. Malini, owner of the old Nathanson place, has commenced suit against E. C. Stevenot, the well-known mining engineer, in Justice Cheney's Court to recover the sum of $42 for wood delivered to defendant. Mr. Stevenot has set up a counter claim of $50 for services rendered in searching for minerals on plaintiff's ranch. Judge Breitenbach is attorney for plaintiff and Robt. A. Poppe for defendant. The case promises to be an interesting one.

Fine Beef Cattle.

George W. Beatty, the popular butcher of Glen Ellen, on Saturday last purchased from J. Sibbald of the Cotate ranch thirty head of the finest beef cattle ever imported into this valley. George has one of the best appointed meat markets in Sonoma county.

Open Season for Quail.

The statement made in one of the city dailies that the open season for quail in this county commenced on the 15th of September is a mistake. It is unlawful to kill the birds in Sonoma county until October 1st.

GLEN ELLEN.

Ye Editor Granice of Sonoma was in town one day this week.

Adam Adler of Sonoma visited relatives in Glen Ellen several days this week.

L. Canepa has been appointed mail carrier between the postoffice and the Southern Pacific depot.

Wm. Durant and his daughter Miss Ella have leased one of the O'Donnell cottages where they now reside.

Julius Fochetti and John Miller, two of Sonoma's solid men, were in town taking in the sights last Sunday.

A. C. Abshire, Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Schools, was a visitor at this place last Tuesday.

Chas. Cheney and Wm. Wyatt of Sonoma were attracted by some unknown cause to this place last Sunday.

John J. Willson felt somewhat indisposed the past week, but his iron constitution is proof against any serious illness.

Mrs. Henry Stoeber and family of San Francisco are spending a few days with Chas. J. Poppe and family of this place.

Kohler & Frohling, the enterprising wine men of this place, intend crushing about three thousand tons of grapes this season.

A number of ladies and gentlemen of this place visited Nun's Canyon and the Stuart Falls on horseback last Sunday.

Our local ninnos are cleaning up their shooting irons for a good quail hunt on the 1st of next month, at which time the law expires.

The Republicans will hold forth at the Heryyn Hotel next Friday evening. Hon. A. G. Burnett and D. E. McKinlay will speak and the Glee Club of Santa Rosa will be in attendance.

Dr. O'Donnell has discovered a spring on his place which contains an unlimited amount of medicinal virtue and which the doctor claims will attract a thousand people to this place next summer.

Mons. Berges entertained a number of the wheelmen of the Olympic and Sonoma Bicycle Clubs last Sunday.

John B. Skinner, the well-known Western Addition druggist of San Francisco, visited his father in this place last Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Small and children have been enjoying an outing the past week on the Poppe ranch, five miles south of town.

Wm. Hintz, the tailor, has closed out his business in this place and will leave for the State of Washington next week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wise took last Saturday's train for the metropolis where they remained several days visiting friends.

Capt. and Mrs. P. N. Stofen of Santa Rosa attended the meeting of the Eastern Star in this place on Friday evening of last week.

Jules Berges, accompanied by six or seven Olympic Club wheelmen of San Francisco, took a spin around Sonoma Valley last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nauman of Alameda visited Sonoma last Sunday. While here they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Poppe.

Mrs. P. L. McGill and Mr. Rankin of Oakland were guests last Sunday at the farm of Richard Thomas in the eastern suburbs of town.

A. D. Lowell, one of Sonoma Valley's oldest and highly respected citizens, has been confined to his home the past week with a severe attack of pleurisy.

Charles Potter, Sr., one of Sonoma Valley's oldest farmers, still continues very ill at his home a few miles southeast of town. It is thought that he will not survive.

The marriage of Miss Josie Collins, one of Sonoma's popular young ladies, to a gentleman, who is a resident of Bath, Maine, is announced to take place in the near future.

H. C. Mohn and family left for Pasadena via Ukiah, last Tuesday. They will visit relatives at the latter place for a short time, after which they will proceed on their journey to Pasadena.

A Parisian shoplifter carried a bogus baby with her during her predatory excursions. The infant had a wax face and a hollow leather body. It was the thief's custom to dexterously transfer purloined articles, such as gloves, lace, etc., to the spacious baby, which usually gained much in weight during these little excursions.

Never throw water on burning oil; use flour.

Miss Eugenie Berges of San Francisco spent several days this week visiting in Sonoma.

Miss Eda Gillan is entertaining at her home this week her friend Mrs. Bailey of San Francisco.

The engagement is announced of Mr. Ignatz Kiser to a very estimable young lady of this valley.

Chinese table covers will fade in washing, but they can be cleaned by the dry process of professional cleaners.

Thos. Ellis, who a few weeks ago left for the northern part of the county, is at present located at Mount Olivet where he has secured a position as foreman of a vineyard and winery.

The Sonoma High School scholars are very much in need of a library. There is some talk of giving a series of entertainments to raise a library fund, which we know will meet the approval of all who are interested in the advancement of our boys and girls.

Frank Carmer and Miss Sophia Wilson were married last Thursday evening by Rev. Mr. Chase at the home of the bride on Broadway. The young couple have taken up their residence at El Verano, where Mr. Carmer has a farm. The bride is the daughter of the late W. P. Wilson. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carmer.

We have received a copy of a well bound book on the vital questions of the day by James P. Boyd, A. M., and published by P. W. Ziegler & Co. of 720 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It contains an account of the political revolution of 1892, the industrial and commercial panic of 1893-4. Also a graphic description of the Pullman boycott and railroad strike and many other instructive issues of labor, together with the portraits of the prominent labor leaders and statesmen.

Last Saturday evening a delightful surprise party was tendered Mr. Henry Bates in honor of his twenty-first birthday. Shortly before 9 o'clock about twenty-five of his young friends assembled at the residence of his mother on Napa street. The interior of the house had been tastefully decorated by the fair hands of a number of his lady friends with tall ferns, evergreens and flowers. Dancing, playing of games and vocal and instrumental music made the affair one long to be remembered. At 11 o'clock dainty refreshments were partaken of in the dining room, after which the amusements of the evening were resumed and kept up for another hour, when the guests departed for their homes after spending an evening unparalleled for pleasure. The following were those present: Mesdames Keogh, Haraszthy, Misses Bertha Campbell, Clara Cheney, Zoe Clark, Katie McDonnell, Birdie Johnson, Mamie Stevenot, Pauline Bates, Lolita Haraszthy, Maggie Stevenot, Natalia Haraszthy, Georgie McHarvey, Cecilia Gracie, Theodora Bates, Julie Gracie, Messrs. Percy King, Joe McMullen, Joe King, Henry Bates, Henry Gundlach, Dr. Atwood, Howard Nauman, Adam Adler, Henry Hyde, Charley Cheney, Claude Johnson, Wm. Wyatt, Hartley Gottenberg, Fred Stevenot.

"People lift their eyebrows," says William Morris, the English poet, "over women mastering the higher mathematics. Why it is infinitely more difficult to learn the details of good housekeeping. Anybody can learn mathematics, but it takes a lot of skill to manage a house well."

Quite an enjoyable evening was spent by those who attended on Friday of last week the social given in the lecture room of the Congregational Church. All were pleasantly entertained by the programme presented. Miss Pollett of Oakland rendered a vocal solo which won for her an encore after which refreshments were served and a merry time was had by all.

Lotta, the actress, known off the stage as Charlotte Crabtree, has a beautiful summer home at Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey. The house is remarkable not only for its unique design, but for the extent and value of its furnishings. The brick-brac alone is valued at $25,000. Over the dining-room mantle-piece are ranged forty teapots, brought together from every quarter of the globe. The house was designed by Mrs. Crabtree, Lotta's mother, and was built as a surprise present for her daughter, who, as might have been expected, was enchanted with the place and delighted by the attention.

If your clothes take fire, never run about, but lie down and roll over and over until the flame is smothered.

Never let the handles of knives be put in hot water. If possible, buy silver knives when you begin your housekeeping. You will not find it an extravagance in the end.

The Anker Bouillon Company of Jersey City has received an order from Japan for 1,000,000 capsules. These capsules seem to be a wonderful substitute for the rations the soldiers have heretofore been carrying about with them. Each capsule is sufficient for a cup of bouillon of one pound of beef in strength. Consequently three capsules are sufficient to sustain a soldier's life and vigor for a whole day. Five hundred of the capsules weigh nine pounds, hence it is possible for each man to carry an equivalent of over four months rations on his back without very great inconvenience. Some of the features of these capsules are that they do not dissolve in cold water nor by atmospheric heat, and they will retain their strength and purity, it is said, for ten years, without diminution.

For a lame back or for a pain in the side or chest, try saturating a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and binding it onto the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers.

The Union Hotel dining rooms, since the recent change of proprietorship, have undergone a change for the better. Under the supervision of Mrs. S. E. Jones the tables are all that could be desired by the most fastidious epicure.

Golden Honors

Golden Coast

Dr. Price's Baking Powder

California, empire of the Pacific, salutes the world. Her Midwinter Fair closed in a midsummer blaze of glory. Second only to the Columbian Exposition in extent, variety and splendor, the coast display was a veritable triumph. Out of her abundance the state poured her treasures—and the nations of the earth came to aid her in her noble exhibition.

Memorable were the exhibits—of gold and silver, of wheat and oil, of fruit and wine, of silk and wool—of all that man and nature could combine to produce. And no exhibit attracted more attention or excited warmer approval than that of

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Official tests showed it to be highest in leavening power, purest in quality, and most efficient in results of all baking powders made. Accordingly, the Highest Award and Gold Medal were conferred on Dr. Price's at the Midwinter Fair.

The triumph at San Francisco confirms the victory at Chicago. The Midwinter Fair verdict sustains and vindicates the bestowal of highest honors on Dr. Price's by the jury of awards at the World's Columbian Exposition.
